

New Client Registration Form

Thank you for choosing Paddle365 Ltd!

We offer a personable and professional white water kayak coaching and guiding service. All our staff are extremely experienced in the environments they operate in. The quality of your experience with us is always our number 1 priority.

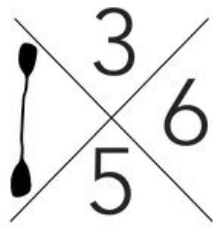

In all paddlesports activity, participants are exposed to an environment that is potentially hazardous. In such an environment, accidents can happen without any contributing negligence from Paddle365 or its staff. We operate these services because we firmly believe that the personal benefits to be gained from immersing yourself in those environments outweigh the potential risks. We promise we will do our best to manage the risks, however, we can not completely eliminate them. By registering as a client with us and booking your first training course, you are also agreeing that you are aware of and understand the risks involved in participation.

There's a few things we'd like to know to help improve your experience...

The information in this form will be stored under GDPR rules. It will never be shared with anyone other than Paddle365 Staff or emergency services should the need arise. It is your right to ask for this information to be destroyed at any time after the completion of your activity.

Here's some more you need to know...

By signing this agreement, you agree the following:

- That you have disclosed all relevant medical information, and that failure to do so may result in risk to your safety and those of others. Should your medical circumstances change, it is your responsibility to update us in advance of any training course provision.
- You are aware of any experience required to join any course you sign up for and that should you not meet this requirement it may affect your experience and that of those around you. In extreme circumstances this can result in you being asked to leave a course, and though we always try to do right by our customers, we cannot offer reimbursement of course fees if this takes place.
- You are fully aware of the risks involved in participation and the fact we can't completely eliminate risk to health and safety, and that should illness, injury or loss occur that any staff will not be held liable for such.
